BONAR LAW, IN SOUTH LONDON SPEECH, ASKS TRANQUILITY

Premier Reaffirms His Stand For Negation

SOP TO LABORITES

Lloyd George In New Attack On Political Foes

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—More than average interest is attached to the speech by the Premier in South London today in the view of a preliminary official Conservative statement. He expounds the Government's ideas with regards to tariff reform and legislation concerning the constitution of the House of Lords.

At the outset Mr. Bonar Law referred to the ex-Premier's appeal to the Dominions at the time of the recent Near East crisis and expressed astonishment that it was issued without previous consultation with the Dominions and with the knowledge of only three or four of the Cabinet Ministers. While wishing that we never had gone to Palestine and Mesopotamia but recognising the obligations that keep us there Mr. Bonar Law said that he would carefully consider Viscount Grey's suggestion that we consult the Dominions in this connection.

The Premier, referring to the recrudescence of the crisis in the Near East, emphasised that the Allied High Commissioners and Generals are now absolutely united, which was not previously the case. He disavowed Conservative hostility to Trades Unions and condemned legislation which unwisely tend to restrict the entry of Labor members into Parliament. In pursuance of a policy of tranquility he did not dream of legislation at present for the revision of the Second Chamber at least in the first couple of sessions. He contended that political agreement was necessary and therefore ridiculed the idea of repealing an act of Parliament.

Mr. Bonar Law concluded with a reference to tariff reform, expressing the belief that a fundamental change of the fiscal system at present will be bad because the conditions are absolutely changed, notably, exchanges, since the tariff controversy arose.

Lloyd George Puts Blame For Turkish Flare-Up On Foes

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—Mr. Lloyd George speaking at Newcastle today expressed dislike of the new Government's 'born-tired look. It was time they woke up. Sleepers were all right on a railway but not in foreign policy.

Inflammation was again showing in the Near East. The Turks said:

"We have got rid of that fellow. Just look at the list of the new Ministry!"

The Turk had concluded that the time had come for another try on. He (Mr. Lloyd George) and his friends would support the Government provided that they did not let the British flag down.

If the Government showed the Turks that they would not be trifled with and that the Mudania Convention must be observed, the trouble would disappear and the peace of the Near East would be reestablished.

The ex-Premier in conclusion said that he was anxious to form a National Liberal bodyguard in the new Parliament, not to embarrass the Government but to save it from the Die-Hard extremists.

BOSTON PRELATE TO GIVE ADDRESS THIS AFTERNOON

Monsignor McGlinchey To Speak Before Catholic Club

Monsignor McGlinchey, of Boston, Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, will deliver an address this afternoon at the Catholic Club of China on "Catholic Activities in the United States."

Monsignor McGlinchey, who is making a tour of the world, inspecting Catholic missions in various countries, is to be the guest of honor at a reception to be given by local Catholics at the club.

The reception will be followed by a tea and musicale.

PROF. EINSTEIN TO PASS THROUGH SHANGHAI SUNDAY

Professor Einstein, propounder of the Einstein theory of relativity, is expected to pass through Shanghai, bound for Japan, on the N.Y.K. steamer Kitano Maru next Sunday.

Professor and Mrs. Einstein on their arrival in Singapore on November 3 were tendered a reception by the Singapore Jewish community, several addresses being given.

The eminent scientist is to return to China for a series of of lectures after his visit to Japan.

Dr. Chatley To Talk At Opening Meeting Of The Quest Society

The first regular meeting of the Quest Society will be held on Monday, November 20, when Dr. Herbert Chatley will speak on "Science in 1922."

Following the first meeting of the season meetings will take place monthly at 5:30 p.m. on the third Monday of every month in the lecture hall of the Royal Asiatic Society, Museum Road, as heretofore.

Thanks to a generous gift by Mr. S. M. Joseph, the Society's library has recently been enriched by a most useful selection of scientific books purchased by Dr. Chatley during his recent sojourn in England.

INDICATIONS POINT TO BIG DEMOCRATIC GAINS IN U.S.

First Returns Show Heavy Republican Losses

JOHNSON VICTOR

California Senator Re-Elected; G.O.P. Loses Governorships

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Nov. 8.—The first election results in the new England districts which is usually strong Republican show a decrease in the total vote as compared with 1920 but with the Democrat minorities relatively larger.

Mr. Nathen L. Miller, the Republican Governor of New York, admits defeat by Mr. Smith (Democrat). According to early reports from Chicago the Democrats are leading against the Republicans by two to one in the districts at present held by the Republicans.

New York, November 8.—Mr. Copeland (Democrat) has been elected Senator for New York State, defeating Senator William M. Calder (Republican).

New York, Nov. 8.—Up to the present the Republicans have not gained a single seat at the expense of the Democrats in the House of Representatives while the Democrats have won 28 seats, but the gain of nearly 80 seats is necessary to upset the Republican control of the House. The returns show one Democrat gain which is set off by the notable defeat of Senator Hitchcock (Nebraska).

All the women candidates in the various constituencies have been defeated.

Mr. Smith's majority in New York is over 400,000 and up to the present the most spectacular feature of the elections.

MCADOO IN DENIAL

(China Press Service)

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 7.—William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, in a speech here, refused again to deny that he is a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination in 1924. He said:

"If I said I am not a candidate, nobody will believe me. If I say I am a candidate they will wonder why I am in such a hurry."

Chinese Present Valuation Table

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, November 8.—At the meeting of the Sino-Japanese Commission this morning the Chinese sub-committee on public properties presented a table of the valuations of the properties under the control of the Tsingtau military authorities to which the Japanese promised to reply later. The Chinese then brought up a proposal on the procedure of the withdrawal of the Japanese troops from Tsingtau and the stationing of Chinese police there. The Japanese delegates postponed their reply. The Japanese proposed to discuss the land question as brought up at the tenth meeting and the Chinese delegates expressed readiness when they received the report of the sub-committee on public properties on it.

Kobe Scores Again In The Big Sweep

For the second big Shanghai race meeting in succession Kobe scores heavily in the winning column, a Kobe man pulling down second prize in the Champions' sweepstake of yesterday. Not only that, but the winner is connected with the same firm which employed Captain Barlee, winner of the Champions' first prize of $250,000-odd last Spring.

The holder of the successful ticket—No. 7473—is Mr. Joseph Willoughby, of the Nunobiki Shogyo Kabushiki Kaisha, of Kobe. The fateful ducat was purchased here by Mr. J. D. Campbell, of Ewo, and transmitted to the Kobe man.

First prize in the big sweep was said last night to have been won by a pool formed by ten local Portuguese citizens.

Maresfield Is Champions Winner For Second Time; Old Bill Fails To Show

Nine Ponies Face Starter In Classic---Stewart Gives Morriss' Pony Perfect Ride, Beating Salvation By Three Lengths

Maresfield, Mr. Henry Morriss' wonderful little grey pony, won The Champions, the classic event of the Shanghai racing season, yesterday, repeating its victory of the Spring Champions. Mr. R. P. Stewart piloted the Morriss pony to its second win by a good three lengths margin over Mr. A. V. Dallas on Salvation. Nationalist, with Mr. J. K. Brand up, finished third, a half length behind Salvation. Old Bill, the favorite, ridden by Mr. John Johnstone, finished fourth.

Nine ponies faced the starter when the classic was called and were sent away to a perfect start after two trys. Eric Moller, on Ajax, shot into the lead past the grandstands and caused hundreds of 'whoops' to go up from the thousands in the stands when it held the lead by a safe margin almost into the stretch. Ajax was followed by Old Bill, Hallowe'en and Christmas Card, with Maresfield on the rail in fifth position.

Coming into the stretch Maresfield suddenly shot into the lead and held it well ahead of Old Bill, Nationalist and Salvation past the grandstands. The three ponies were running flank to flank and none of them had the edge until just before reaching the tape Salvation stretched his neck to place second by half a length. And then one great war whoop went up from the crowd and continued until after the ponies had been led past the stands on their way to the stalls.

VICTORY POPULAR

Maresfield's victory was a popular win as the little grey had almost as many supporters among the betting public as Old Bill, the favorite. In the parimutuels 3,246 figured Maresfield to win while 3,208 backed Old Bill. For place Old Bill had 4,553 admirers and Maresfield was the favorite of 3,507. In the selling lotteries at the race club the night before the big race Old Bill sold for the highest price by a slight margin over Maresfield. Christmas Gift, the third choice of the betting public, failed to show, but Nationalist, the fourth choice, finished third in the big race.

The holders of the winning Champions tickets—in fact none of the winners in either The Champions or the Champions "B" Sweep—had made themselves known and collected their fairy-godmother shekels up to a late hour last night. The first prize in the Champions Sweep was $252,000. Second prize was $72,000, and third prize $36,000. First prize in the "B" Sweep amounted to $25,183.20, second prize, $7,195.20, and third prize $3,597. Sweeps on all races ran unusually high.

Maresfield, the Champions winner, qualified on Monday by winning the Autumn Cup with Mr. Heard up. Salvation, the second pony to cross the tape in the big race, qualified only yesterday morning in the last race before tiffin after a bitter fight with Letchfield which resulted in a dead heat: Mr. A. N. Dallas, who rode Salvation to second place in the classic, also rode the pony in the dead heat race. Mr. Stewart, who piloted the Champions winner, rode Letchfield in the qualifiying race. Nationalist, the third pony, qualified on the second day by winning the Shanghai Stakes.

DAY A BIT COLD

Champions Day was a wee bit cold but the slight chilly breeze failed to keep the crowd away from the course. All Shanghai seemed to be there and the feminine element held their usual Autumn 'style show' by appearing in striking new Fall styles and many beautiful furs. An unusually good crowd appeared for the three races yesterday

ROBERT YOUNG VETERAN EDITOR, OF KOBE IS DEAD

Chief Of Japan Chronicle Dies Suddenly In Kobe

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, November 8.—The death is announced of Mr. Robert Young, the Editor of the Japan Chronicle.

The field of journalism in the Far East has sustained a severe loss through the death in Kobe Tuesday night of Mr. Robert Young, pioneer newspaperman in Japan and editor of the Japan Chronicle.

Word of Mr. Young's death was first received here yesterday by Mr. D. Drake, of the Public School for Boys, whose wife is a niece of the late editor. The message stated that Mr. Young had died suddenly about midnight of Tuesday night. He had been in failing health for several years, in fact since his eldest son, Mr. Arthur Young—a journalist of much promise, upon whom his father relied to carry on his work—was killed in the war. Serious illness, however, was not anticipated and his death comes as a great shock to his many friends in Shanghai and other cities of China.

Mr. Young had just entered his sixty-fifth year, having been born October 9, 1858, in Westminster, London. He was educated in the Westminster Training School and later served an apprenticeship in Messrs. Spottiswoode and Company's printing office in London. He subsequently became a reader on the Saturday Review and then was engaged as manager of the Hyogo News, coming to Kobe to take charge in 1888.

In 1891 Mr. Young established the Kobe Chronicle, subsequently purchasing the Hyogo News and incorporating it with the Chronicle, which became the Japan Chronicle and has since carried on under that name with Mr. Young in the chief editorial chair.

Mr. Young is survived by his widow and two sons, Douglas and Eric, residing in Shioya, near Kobe, and a daughter, Ethel, who is married and lives in Bournemouth, England. A brother and sister are also living, residing in London.

As editor of the Chronicle Mr. Young has been one of the outstanding figures in Far Eastern journalism. Fearless and outspoken in his comment upon contemporary affairs, whether in Japan or elsewhere, he commanded the consideration and respect of all his readers. He criticised frankly where he believed criticism to be due and there were none, including those against whom he took stand, but paid tribute to his convictions and to his ability to set them forth. He was a keen student of political affairs, not only in the East, but throughout the world and with his passing the newspaper reading public in the Orient loses one of its ablest commentators on current events.

Mr. Young, besides his work with the Chronicle has contributed largely to such publications as the 19th Century and other periodicals and newspapers in England. His son, Eric, is connected with the Chronicle and the paper is under management of Mr. Morgan Young, not related to the late editor, under whom it is expected to carry on.

MAIL FOR STATES CLOSES SATURDAY TO GO ON PIERCE

European Mail Also Leaves At Week-End On The Porthos

Mails for Honolulu and America will close at the United States Post Office Saturday, to be carried by the Pacific Mail line President Pierce. Ordinary mails will close at 3 p.m. and registered at 2.

The Pierce, according to word received by the local offices of the company yesterday, is leaving Hongkong a day late and will not arrive until Saturday, but this will make no change in the sailing time announced for Shanghai and the tender with outgoing passengers will leave the Customs Jetty at 5 p.m. of that day. The Pierce is due in San Francisco on November 30.

The next mail to be despatched to the United States will go on the President Madison, leaving here November 19 and the next incoming mail is expected by the President McKinley, due next Tuesday. The Madison arrives in Yokohama, from Seattle, today.

The next mail for Europe goes by the Messageries Maritimes steamer Porthos Saturday. Registered matter will close at the British and Chinese Post Offices at 11 a.m. Saturday and ordinary matter may be mailed up to 11:30 o'clock.

The Porthos is due to arrive from Kobe this afternoon and will dock at the S. M. R. Whangpoo Wharf about 2 o'clock. She sails for Marseilles and ports at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. Passengers are requested to embark after 1 p.m. and heavy baggage should be delivered to the company's office before noon tomorrow.

The P. and O. steamer Karmala, which arrived yesterday morning with mail from Europe, sails from the Whangpoo Wharf for Japan ports tomorrow.

Municipal Block To Be Officially Opened Thursday

The official opening of the new Municipal Administration Building will be held next Thursday, when the chairman and members of the Council will be "at home" to the ratepayers from 4 to 5:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber and Committee rooms.

The entrance to be used will be that at the corner of Kiangse and Hankow Roads, and the Administration Building will be opened at 4 o'clock and the several departmental offices will be open for public inspection until 5.

NANYANG STRIKE COMES TO END; DEMANDS MET

Tobacco Company Concedes Most Of Points Raised By Men

All the 17 demands addressed to the managing director of the Nanyang Brothers Tobacco Company, Mr. Kam Chiu-nan, were accepted and the 7,000 employes in the various departments of the company at Wayside returned to their work yesterday at the conclusion of a strike of 3 days. The strike, it is said, was called more or less as an act of sympathy towards the B. A. T. and cotton mill strikers in Pootung.

Negotiations began Tuesday afternoon and after an hour's conference with the representatives of the strikers, Mr. Kam announced that he would meet with their desires, provided certain concessions were made by the men. These were agreed to by the strikers and the laborers resumed work yesterday.

The conditions agreed to by the management of the company are as follows:

1—The employes on their own accord abolish the organisation known the Shanghai Tobacco Laborers' Union and establish another body to be known as the Nanyang Tobacco Employees' Club. Membership is to be limited to employes of the Nanyang Brothers only.

2—None of the officers and committeemen of the defunct body shall be dismissed on account of their activities in the recent strike.

3—All millhands who are prevented from working on account of repair work shall be paid their full wages.

4—Unless a laborer is found to be guilty of assault, or molesting girls or committing any crime, he shall not be discharged.

5—The entire premises at 17 Chaoufoong Road shall be given over to the employes for the use of their new organisation.

6—The Nanyang Brothers Tobacco Company shall give an allowance of $300 to the organisation for running expenses.

7—All regular employes must belong to the organisation while membership is optional for those who do piece work for the company.

8—Beginning November 1, each employe is to be given an increase of $3 per month. Thereafter, the laborers should be given an increase at the beginning of each Chinese New Year.

9—There should be a bonus for each employee who has worked throughout the year.

10—All fines must be paid over to the treasury of the new organisation.

ALLIES FIRM FOR REJECTION OF KEMALISTS' STIPULATIONS

London Cabinet Meeting Decides To Hold Troops

ANXIETY IS FELT

Allied Capitals Anxiously Awaiting Developments

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—A grave view is taken in London and Paris of the new Turkish crisis, the origin of which is attributed to the permission given to Rafet Pasha to pass through Constantinople en route to Thrace of which he is Governor General.

It is emphasised in London that the problem is not the retention of Constantinople but the safety of its 750,000 non-Turkish inhabitants. It is regarded as inconceivable that the Allies will not decide upon immediate common action to protect them.

Indications of Allied understanding, up to the present, inspire more confident hopes than in the previous crisis though the present situation is worse as the Turkish armies are now concentrated and fanaticism is increasing.

The newspapers in Paris today are painfully surprised at the Kemalists' breach of the Mudania Agreement. They dwell on the imprudence of the Turks challenging the Allies on the eve of the Lausanne Conference, but are confident that Mustapha Kemal's political good sense will relieve the situation.

M. Poincare conferred with Marshal Foch yesterday. According to the Petit Parisien, Marshal Foch adheres to the view that it is easy to prevent the Turks from landing in Europe.

Official news reports show that the situation at Constantinople is graver. The Kemalists have increased the Customs tariff from five to fifteen times, doubling the price of bread. They have ordered the duties to be paid to Angora instead of to the Ottoman Bank, withheld payments to the public debt and ordered the debt officials to withdraw.

This means the abolition of the Financial Commission and is the first step towards the abolition of the public debt.

They have ordered the closing of the British Judicial Mixed Court, taken over the work of the Allied Sanitary Commission and have forbidden Ottoman subjects to leave Constantinople without permission from Angora.

The Allies are absolutely united in the view that the responsibility for the safety of the population of Constantinople rests with them.

The High Commissioners are taking steps to effect the release of Kemal Bey, former Minister of the Interior, and an anti-Kemalist journalist whom the Kemalists arrested.

The Allies regard their arrest as political persecution.

London, November 8.—The Cabinet meeting last night to consider the Near East situation confirmed the intention to reject the Turkish demands. The Cabinet decided that the British troops will remain in Constantinople and that General Sir Charles Harington shall be supported.

JOURNALIST LYNCHED

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Nov. 7.—It is reported that the Liberal journalist, Ali Kemal, was hanged today at Ismid after a crowd had half lynched him.

When the Sultan visited General Sir Charles Harington yesterday he said that as Khalif he was head of the whole Moslem world and therefore was not willing to accept the decision of the National Assembly.

GENERALS CONFER

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Nov. 6.—The Allied Generals had a three hour interview with Rafet Pasha this morning. General Sir Charles Harington pointed out to Rafet Pasha that he was apparently trying to usurp the authority of the Allied Generals. He seemed to forget the existence of the Treaty of Mudros, which the Mudania Agreement has not superseded.

The Allied Generals were not able to divest themselves of their authority and there could only be one control, namely Allied, control. Constantinople would eventually, probably within a few weeks, be handed over to the Nationalists but meanwhile the Allies would not surrender their responsibility for the maintenance of order and security.

General Charpy (France) and General Mombelli (Italy) endorsed General Sir Charles Harington's declaration.

Ismet Pasha, replying expressed ignorance of the notes which the Angora representative had handed to the Allied High Commissioners. He said that the notes were diplomatic.

He was anxious to work in agreement with the Allies but he was unable to accept any form of control. He promised to ask for instructions from Angora and to consult Ismet Pasha tomorrow.

The meeting, therefore, ended in a deadlock but there is reason to believe that the Kemalists will climb down before the strong united attitude of the Allies.

(Reuter's Service)

Constantinople, Nov. 7.—The Allied High Commissioners, in the course of conversations with Hamid Bey, the Kemalist representative, informed him that the Allied Governments, while no wishing to interfere with the internal affairs of Turkey, must maintain the system of control which is, regarded as necessary during the Allied occupation of Constantinople.

The Allied High Commissioners have asked their Governments for instructions with a view to the proclamation of martial law.

Ismet Pasha has arrived in Constantinople.

In connection with the Kemalist demand for the evacuation of Constantinople it is pointed out that in accordance with the Allied Note of September 23 the Allied troops will remain in occupation of Constantinople until the Peace Treaty is ratified.

COMMENT IN U. S.

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Nov. 7.—Commenting on the Kemalist demands the New York World asserts that they constitute a dramatic vindication of Mr. Lloyd George and forecasts that Frenchmen would soon say to M. Poincare with regard to France's recent diplomatic victory over Britain "another such victory and we are lost."

The New York Tribune declares that the status of the Allies in Constantinople was determined by the armistice and can be ended only by a Kemalist act of war. The Kemalist would be very foolish to try war instead of negotiation.

The New York Times says that evidently the promises of the Kemalists are worth little more than those of Abdul Hamid.

Pavlowa

Pavlowa pleased—and delighted—another capacity audience at the Olympic theater last night, this time in a three part program consisting of two ballet numbers and some diversions.

In the Ballet numbers, which were listed on the program as 'The Magic Flute' and 'Snowflakes,' the incomparable Pavlowa was at her best, and again transformed her audience, which, needless to say, filled the house.

Pavlowa is to be here all the rest of the week, and if there are any who have not seen her they had better hurry, for truly there is nobody like Pavlowa. She is simply beyond words, marvelous! It would do no good to describe her program of last night, or of any other night for that matter. Her programs always are good. See her—and thank your lucky stars that she came to Shanghai.

"Ad" Stunt Proves Much Too Successful

The super-success of an advertising scheme tried out by Messrs. Harvie, Cooke and Co. landed two Chinese in the Mixed Court yesterday.

The company, the testimony showed, had inserted advertisements and coupons in the Chinese newspapers stating that free samples of Colgate toilet preparations would be distributed to coupon holders calling at the firm's offices in Hankow Road. The response was overwhelming and on Tuesday morning the police notified the company that they would have to stop the distribution owing to the traffic congestion caused. The firm therefore displayed a sign to this effect. There were about 500 people crowded outside calling for samples and when the announcement was made, it was alleged, the two defendants started throwing stones, smashing two of the firm's signboards.

"You started a monster which you could not control," commented Assessor Blackburn to Mr. Fisher, of the complainant company, in dismissing the charge.

CATHOLIC PRIEST TAKEN PRISONER BY BANDIT GANG

Rev. Fr. Grimaldi In Hands Of Anhuei Outlaws, Wire Reports

Another foreign missionary, the Rev. Father Grimaldi, S. J., of the Yenchowfu Mission in Anhuei, has been taken prisoner by bandits, according to word received here.

The Rev. Father Grimaldi, who was accompanied by a seminarist and a pupil, was captured on Tuesday. Pere Manmus, Procurator of St. Joseph's Church here, stated that although but a single telegram had been received regarding the capture, no uneasiness was felt for Father Grimaldi's safety.

Great Confusion In British Elections

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—The electoral confusion is such that scarcely a paper yesterday agreed even on the totals of the nominations.

A definitive list has now been issued which shows that the candidates in England and Wales number 1,252, in Scotland 171, and in North Ireland 16, divided into 26 parties or groups, of whom Conservatives number 432 in England and 38 in Scotland, Liberals 287 in England and 48 in Scotland, National Liberals 103 in England and 34 in Scotland and Laborites 363 in England and 39 in Scotland.

The remainder belong to insignificant groups, generally of one representative, the strongest being the Independent Conservatives, of whom there are twelve, all in England.

The terms Independent Liberals, Coalition Liberals and Coalition Unionists have disappeared from the list, which contains only one Independent Liberal, Lt. Col. Davies, returned unopposed in Montgomeryshire, and one coalition Liberal, the former Minister of Food, Mr. McCurdy, whom a Liberal and a Laborite are opposing at Northampton

INOCULATION AGAINST DISTRESS

THIS week is Vaccination Week. As a preventive against smallpox, people are undergoing vaccination, safeguarding their health and their life by the best means they know. It is recognized as the counsel of wisdom to safeguard one's health and one's future.

SMALLPOX, however, is but one of the ills that flesh is heir to. There are many other ways of dying, and many other ways of experiencing physical suffering and distress. Most common of all is poverty, —the lack of the things one is accustomed to.

ARE you safeguarding the welfare of your dependents by adequate life insurance? Are you safeguarding them against economic distress as you are safeguarding yourself against physical distress? Life insurance is immunization against distress. Have you an adequate life insurance policy in a strong company?

DE VALERA MANIFESTO

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 8.—Mr. de Valera and his consignatory, Mr. Austin Stack, have followed up the declaration of November 6 with another solemnly "Proclaiming" the Provisional Government, "an unconstitutional usurping junta," as "illegal body pledging the Nation's credit without the sanction of the Republican Government and warning all concerned that the Provisional Government's activities are null and void.

Appropriations Will Engage New Congress

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Nov. 8.—It is understood that the business program of the extra session of Congress which President Harding will shortly convoke for November 20 provides for the consideration of the Merchant Marine Bill by the House of Representatives and the anti-Lynching Bill by the Senate. The anti-Lynching Bill has already passed the House of Representatives. The regular session in December will probably tackle the question of appropriations.

THE UNPLANTED SEED

Until a seed is planted in the earth, watered, watched over, caused to grow—it has no power of multiplication.

Money of itself is only so much metal. Hoarded and hidden away it is but an inert lump, of no productive value to its owner. But invested by him in safe securities it will nearly double itself in 10 years, quadruple itself in 20 years and amount to nearly eight times its original figure in 30 years.

Our services as financial agriculturists are freely yours for the asking.

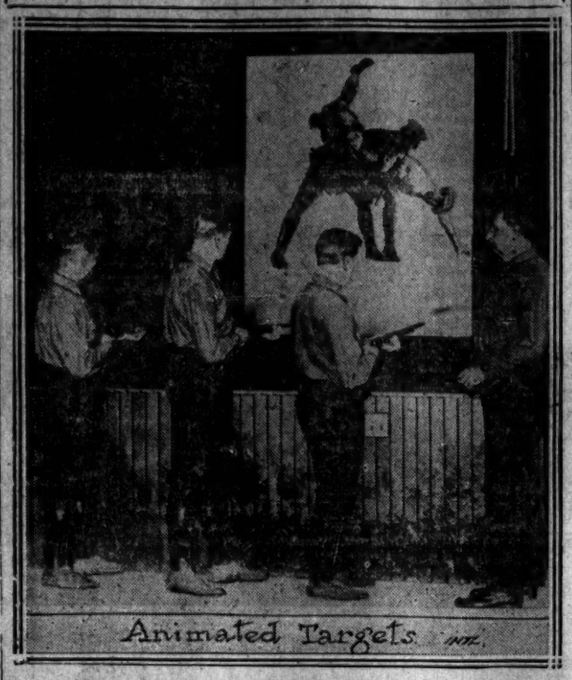
Monument To Young Alsatian Shot As Spy

Paris, Sept. 9.—The unveiling of a monument in Alsace-Lorraine recently revealed another of those unknown tragedies of the war. The monument was erected in memory of the bravery and patriotism of a young Alsatian named David Bloch who was shot by the Germans. Bloch, although he was born in Alsace, crossed the French border when the war broke out and enlisted in the French army.

After serving with the infantry for a time he asked to be allowed to carry out missions behind the German lines where, because he spoke German fluently, he would surely be able to pick up useful information. Conveyed by airplane Bloch was set down behind the enemy lines with the promise that he would be picked up a week later. When the machine landed, however, it capsized and Bloch and the pilot were captured.

The pilot was imprisoned in a fortress, but Bloch was shot as a spy and traitor.

Animated Targets For N. Y. Police



HERE are shown the four New York police officials who have installed animated targets for rifle and pistol practice. Left to right, they are Jack H. Hodgkinson, National Commissioner of Police Welfare; Colonel A. D. Martin, Deputy Commissioner John M. Shaw and Charles E. Scofield, U. S. Army captain, attached to the Police Training School. The animated target is equipped with a device which throws motion pictures on a small screen. The pictures are usually of police struggling with bandits, and it is the object of the police riflemen to shoot the bandit in the picture without injuring his brother officer. Every hit is scored by means of lights which flash for three seconds.

"DISRAELI"

HOW TO "GROW" A NEW COMPLEXION

These are the days of "bustling." In a week we see and do more than our grandmothers did in a year. We are gradually turning nature to be our servant: we use her great forces against herself. We have conquered sea and sky, now our doctors are fighting not only disease, rejuvenating human beings by the injection of animal glands but as yet, only the few can avail themselves of the treatment.

There is, however, one secret of perpetual youth that is in the reach of everyone. Scientists now realise that the only way of keeping the skin young and fresh is to examine Nature's methods and to find some way of imitating her.

In order to explain the new method of keeping the complexion perpetually youthful, one must understand something of the nature of the skin. A baby's skin is always clear and smooth because the outer layer is always invisibly peeling off, and new layers are forming just as fast underneath, so that the exposed skin is always fresh, unwrinkled and "new."

For the first few years of our lives, this peeling is a purely natural process, but as we grow older, we gradually lose the power of throwing off our old soiled outer skins, so that our complexions become lined and yellow, and the new skin has no chance to show itself.

A few years ago, a scientific chemist realised that a little-known substance called mercolised wax, was exactly what was needed to "keep nature up to the mark." It appears that this substance, which is now universally obtainable gently and painlessly assists nature in throwing off the soiled outer cuticle. The skin is thus perpetually renewed, and its clear youthful complexion can be preserved to any age. (Advt.)

Big Claim Against Stock Exchange

A claim for $100,830 and for $1,500 and 320 shares in the Nanyang Brothers Tobacco Company has been made in the Mixed Court against the Chartered Stock and Produce Exchange and eight men described as managing directors by a Chinese registered as a Japanese protege. The plaintiff, represented by Mr. M. Ito, claims the amount is due in respect of stock transactions entered into last February and not carried out by the defendants.

It is claimed by the defense, represented by Mr. M. B. Brown, Mr. A. Krisel and Mr. T. Kikuchi, that the deal was arranged through a broker who had nothing to do with the exchange and who has since absconded. Judgment was reserved by Japanese Assessor Tanaka and Magistrate Tsang, who heard the case.

Foochow Menaced By New Arrivals

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 8.—Report from the South state that notwithstanding Admiral Sah Chen-ping's desire not to bring reinforcements to Fukien from Kiangsi some ten thousand troops under General Chang Tsheng have crossed the Fukien-Kiangsi border. This movement alarmed the Fukienese as the troops in question are reputed to be badly trained and looting is feared. The Northern party at Foochow is alarmed and anxious lest looting by these Northern troops turn popular feeling solidly to the South.

Admiral Sah Chen-ping still retains the post of Provisional Governor but he is expected to resign in favor of Mr. Lin Sen whose objection to supporting Little Hsu no longer interferes with his acceptance of the Governorship. General Li Hou-chi arrived at Amoy on November 5 with 80 officers and was welcomed by Generals Kao Hsien-chen and Tsang Chi-ping whose loyalty to the North is now considered certain. General Li Hou-chi is expected to make Amoy his headquarters. The vanguard of General Hsu Chun-chih's army is stated to have reached Yungan and is likely to come in contact with General Wang Hsien-chen's troops very soon.

BAN ON REFUGEES

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, November 8.—The Governor-General of Korea, acting on instructions from Count Uchida, has prohibited future admission and passage through Korea of all refugees from Siberia. At present there are 1,000 destitutes at Gensan and 5,000 at Hunchun. It is understood that General Chang Tso-lin has prohibited the passage of these destitutes through Manchuria to Harbin.

"Began to think she would never get well."

Our Portrait is of Miss FLORRIE ORGAN, of 100, Clark Street, Ladywood, Birmingham, England, whose father writes:

"My daughter Florrie was suffering with a very bad head covered with Sores and Eruptions, and in fact her mother was afraid to comb her hair. She had been under several doctors, but all to no purpose, so I began to think she would never get well again and lose all her hair. As your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' cured me of Glandular Swellings in the Neck some years ago, and so averted my having to undergo an operation, I decided to give 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' a fair trial in the case of my daughter, and I am pleased to say it effected a wonderful cure in just over a fortnight."

SUFFERERS from Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Glandular Swellings, Piles, Eczema, Boils, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Gout, should realise that lotions and ointments can but give temporary relief; to be sure of complete and lasting benefit the blood must be thoroughly cleansed of the impure waste matter the root cause of such troubles. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks, overcomes and expels the impurities; that is why so many remarkable recoveries stand to its credit. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients.

Of all Dealers. Ask for and see you get rning and tiffin at the Club, and witnessed a number of good races and two upsets of the dope. Mr. John Peel's Silver Streak proved the sensation of the morning racing by winning the Flyaway Plate from a classy field after it had failed miserably in previous attempts to qualify. Pennyfield and Shenkoland were both out in a last effort to qualify for the big race and both made sporting efforts that failed when Mr. John Johnstone urged Silver Streak in the stretch and won by a neck with Pennyfield a half-length of Day's Shenkoland, the big favorite. Silver Streak was scarcely played and paid a dividend of $140. Twenty-Two Carat was fourth. R. S. Dallas was thrown by Commonland at the post and did not start. He was not hurt.

Terminal had an easy time in the second race, winning by many lengths over Del Monte, with Maitland up, and Liddell on Sunrise, which finished third. Gussie White got off in front with White Heather, but the pony couldn't stand the pace and was not in the picture. Chang Tso-lin, the favorite, was a poor fourth.

A DEAD HEAT RACE

The third race saw Salvation and Letchfield in their thrilling dead-heat race with Crowborough third.

Thomas A. Becket took the lead, with Brand on Harbin and Billy Hill on The Peregrine easing into second and third places. Salvation was in the middle of the bunch.

Opposite the main stand, Thomas A. Becket still led, with Crowborough and Harbin running close behind. At the Widow's Monument Crowborough stepped into the lead but lost the head of the procession at the turn, Salvation taking the lead with Letchfield. Together they dashed for the wire, Stewart pushing his mount to a dead heat with Dallas. Crowborough was two lengths behind.

Rosted, Knight and Pollock chased their names into the list of jockeys who placed by their riding in the fourth race. Rosted winning. The event was The Jockey Cup and Silvo was the winning pony paying $95.70. Oregon was second with Liability third. It was a great race, half a length separating first and second, and second and third ponies.

Oregon jumped into the lead with Bobsie and both ponies stayed there until the stretch was reached. Oregon made the second place by passing Liability, with White Lilac, fourth pony in.

The Gypsy Bird, Brand up, won the sixth race, The Jessfield Cup, by beating Dreamland in by two lengths, with the Day pony a length and a half out in front of Skylight. The Gypsy Bird was the favorite, and Skylight was second choice. A great part of the crowd's pep ebbed away after The Champions—the seventh event—and little interest attached to the victory of The Golf Bird, who went around the course in front of Widgeon and Gargany. The Golf Bird was the bettors' favorite. Peterkins, second favorite, was out of the running.

FULL HOUSE WINS LAST

Full House cantered to victory in the last race yesterday with a good length and a half margin over Jason, who led Scesaplana by a half-length. Pennyfield, a hot favorite, failed to place. Scesaplana, second choice for both win and place, finished third. The results:

1.—The Flyaway Plate.—Winner, Tls. 400. Second, Tls. 200 Third, Tls. 100. For all China Ponies.—Seven Furlongs.

Ford Fights 'Wets' In Two Big Plants

Detriot, Sept. 29.—Beginning on Monday the Ford Motor Company will wage an aggressive war against the use of all forms of intoxicants among its tens of thousands of employes. Information obtained by company officials shows that Federal and State authorities have been only partly successful in enforcing prohibition and restricting the production of intoxicants in Highland Park and Springwells, where the principal Ford plants are located.

The odor of intoxicants in a workman's breath, the presence of any form of intoxicant on his person or in his home will be cause for summary discharge.

"This has got to stop," Mr. Ford said tonight, "and we're going to end it in short order. Starting Monday it will cost a man his job without any excuse or appeal being considered to have the odor of beer, wine or liquor on his breath or to have any of these intoxicants on his person or in his home.

"The Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution is a part of the fundamental law of this country. It was meant to be enforced. Politics has interfered with enforcement of this law, but, so far as our organisation is concerned, it is going to be enforced to the letter. I have always been opposed to all forms of intoxicants. Beer, wine and liquor never did anybody any good—and they have caused incalculable suffering and misery in the world."

FRANCS FALL TO 69.65
(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—The French franc in London today reached new low record of 69.65 to the £. The Belgian franc was quoted at 75.35 to the £ and German marks went from 36,000 to 38,000 to £1.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

November 8, 1922

Spot and forward bar silver were each down 3-16d in London yesterday.

There was a holiday in New York and no quotation has been received from there.

The only changes in our official quotations here today were a rise in the Yen rate to 67 and in the Franc rate to 1130.

Our market here was weak throughout the day.

While a small business in Sterling was done at the opening at 3-3⅛ for December-January delivery and in Gold Dollars at 72¾, there were at all times throughout the morning good buyers at these rates.

Quite a little business in Sterling was done at 3-3 for November-December delivery and 3-3 1-16 for January.

Gold Dollars were done at 72¼ for November, 72⅜ for December and 72½ for forward delivery.

At the close there were probably sellers rather than buyers at these rates.

There were sellers of Yen at the close at 66⅞ and buyers at 66⅝.

Banks were quoting 3-4 for Sterling bills and 74 for Gold Dollars bills.

On account of the depression in the Franc rate there were practically no buyers of Franc bills at any price.

China sold silver in London yesterday and India bought a small amount, the market closing easy.

Weather Report

Nov. 7.—Pressures still very high, between Siberia and North China. A depression, formed in Shantung, advances towards Korea.

Strong winds of the North quadrant are rising, to the N of the 35th parallel.

Overcast weather at most places; some showers along the Yangtsze.

Nov. 8.—Some showers during the night; the weather clears up and becomes very cool in the morning.

Strong breezes of the NW quadrant.

The pressure starts rising.

Hongkong Shares

Messrs. Moxon and Taylor of Hongkong write as follows in their report on the share market dated Hongkong, November 3:

Our market has been quiet during the week under review, but with little or no signs of weakening, practically all stocks being firmly held.

Rubber is unchanged.

The following are the principal alterations since last week:

Hongkong Banks:—Are easier with sellers at $952½ after sales at $950-5.

Unions:—Still have buyers at $220 after a few having changed hands at $223.

Hongkong Lands:—Continue on the upward grade with buyers at $265 after sales at $266.

Humphreys:—Are very firm with buyers at $19 but no sales are reported at this price so far.

Hongkong Fires and Canton Insurance:—Are still firm with buyers at $425 and $470 respectively.

Hongkong Hotels:—Not many have changed hands but they are still wanted at $27¾ Old and $22¼ New.

Cements:—Have fluctuated from $21¾ to $22 with but little business passing and close with sellers at the latter price.

Dairy Farms:—Still have buyers at $25 but no sellers are coming out at this price.

Hongkong Wharves:—Buyers have been freely offering at $178 without meeting with any response from sellers, and they now close nominal at $180.

Hongkong Docks:—After a few sales at $191½ are still wanted at $190.

China Providents:—Are quieter and after sales at $25 have buyers at $23½.

Douglases.—Are not quite so firm and have sellers at $58.

Chinese Merchants Want Likin Tabooed

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Nov. 5.—That the central government at Peking should take immediate and effective steps to abolish the likin system is the unanimous resolution that has been passed by delegates from various provinces in China now attending the fourth annual conference of the National Associated Chambers of Commerce in Hankow. A paper on this question was read by representatives of the Hankow Chamber of Commerce and is said virtually to represent the opinion of all delegates.

Other resolutions and proposals are being made and drawn up at the daily session, and they will be submitted to the sections for final approval and general endorsement. The Conference which was formally opened on November 1 will continue for two weeks to let delegates express their opinions on questions affecting trade in China. After that period general discussion and voting on the questions will follow. The Conference will last 20 days in all, unless questions needing further discussion present themselves.

BANKERS TO BUILD
(Inaependent News Service)

Hankow, Nov. 5.—The Chinese Bankers Association of Hankow has just passed a resolution to erect a building costing Tls. 75,000 as the home of the association. A lot of 300 fang has been acquired by the Association, and plans are being made for the new edifice. The building will be completed in a year.

WEATHER

Overcast and cold weather. Strong winds from North-West along the North coast and from North-East in the South. A new depression appears to advance between Yap and Mindanao.

Pioneers Of Flight

RECENT developments put in a somewhat different light the experiments of early pioneers in aviation, and may even raise the question whether flight of a sort may not at times have been achieved by isolated experimenters. If this is the case it would give a new significance to the myth of Daedelus, the cunning artificer, and his son Icarus, who while flying was drowned in what was called after him the Icarian sea. The belief that some individuals have flown seems to have been rather widespread; it may be attributed to the credulity of unsophisticated times, yet the question may be fairly put whether skepticism has not gone too far in the other direction. As late as 1906 one of the foremost American mathematicians and astronomers, the late Simon Newcomb, published an essay expressing doubt as to whether flight was possible for man; when his essay appeared flight had already been achieved by the Wright brothers.

It was then assumed that what made flight possible was the production of a light and powerful motor, sharply differentiating our own age from any that had gone before. Broadly speaking this is true, but of late it has been proved that what can fairly be called flight and in earlier times would unhesitatingly have been accepted as such, can be accomplished without the aid of any engine at all, by a fabric which might conceivably have been made with equal perfection by a cunning artificer of ancient Crete. The sailplane, in short, instead of being a highly complex invention requiring many centuries for the slow evolution of the steam engine from the toy which it was to the Greeks and the sluggish Titan which it was to the 18th century, is a relatively simple and primitive affair, a matter of skill in workmanship rather than of elaborate scientific technic.

That in general early experimenters failed seems due to their trying to do too much. Most of the projects for flying machines which have come down to us involve the use of muscular power for propulsion. Yet it is not venturing to suppose, when we consider how much obscure experimentation with wings has been made, that some of these innovators may have tried the simpler course of trying to glide down hill without muscular effort. With reasonably well designed wings, a lucky upward slant of wind might surprise and delight such an experimenter with the sensation of soaring, and not impossibly before breaking his neck he might achieve some flights long enough to amaze his little world and leave behind him a vague tradition of a bird man.

That such a thing happened of course cannot be proved, but after the feat of Hentzen in keeping aloft three hours by wind power alone it cannot be confidently affirmed that flight was never achieved until our own day. Neither can it be said that men were absurd in trying to fly before a suitable engine had been invented. The thing could be done with the mechanical resources which men for thousands of years have had at their disposal, and when communications were so wretched as they were until modern times flight of even a modest and limited kind would have had value. Now that soaring is an achieved fact we shall have to revise our judgment of "Darius Green and His Flying Machine." so long a figure of fun. In the retrospect Darius and his fellow cranks will have to be accorded the honor due to the pioneers in the mastery of the air.

Assured Remembrance

BY S. E. KISER

"Oh, you'll remember me," she said
When finally they parted:
"You may suppose your love is dead—
Well, my wounds, too, have smarted.
Your look is cold, your manner chilly;
I'm sorry that it had to be;
Perhaps we've both been rather silly,
But you'll remember me.

"You're thinking now of all the chances
That you intend to have for play:
You may engage in new romances,
For men are privileged that way:
You may pursue your joys hereafter
Where others, young and fancy free,
Shall cheer you with their girlish laughter,
But you'll remember me.

"There may be many things to cheer you
Along the ways in which you fare;
The praise you prattle may endear you
To those whose favors you shall share;
You may be thinking you will never
Regret that we could not agree:
I have no doubt at all, however,
That you'll remember me.

"In other days, in other years,
And spurred by new ambitions,
You may rejoice, and close your ears
To Gossip's repetitions,
But, whether smooth or whether stony
Your future pathways are to be,
When you squeeze out my alimony,
Oh, you'll remember me!

The Two Kemals

The Polished Aristocrat Of European Circles In Contrast With The Ruthless Commander Of Fanatical Turks

If you were to meet in the mist the man of mystery who has suddenly arisen above the Near Eastern horizon, Field Marshal Mustapha Kemal Pasha, you would be at once charmed and astonished. This most "terrible" of all "the terrible Turks"—described by Earl Balfour only a year or two ago as a brigand—is in his demeanor a polished man of the world, who addresses you in accomplished French, who wears an English shooting suit of tweed and soft gray collar with gray tie, and has a look like a Western official—calm, detached, inscrutable.

The picture of Kemal as a kind of buccaneering sheik in Oriental robes, with jeweled scimitar and horse pistols at his waist, has thus no foundation in reality. His headdress is not the Turkish fez, familiar in Egypt, but the somewhat ampler kalpan of lambskin, and his fingers, instead of dripping blood, toy with a string of amber beads ending in a brown tassel. But this courtly diplomatic Kemal is only one aspect of the man. His is a dual personality. One Kemal displays the velvet glove; the other, the mailed fist within.

Kemal has light blue eyes of steel, which at times contract with temper, while his high and thoughtful forehead is, as it were, gathered in at the bridge of the nose, where there is a deep dent, indicative of concentration, even of a certain moody and obstinate purpose. His health has suffered from his uncertain life, and he likes special cooking. But he has been always a man under rigid discipline. His tense face shows it. Over the high cheekbones, the features are drawn with not an ounce of flesh to spare. Unmarried at 41 years of age, his income is the equivalent of $180 a month. He is thus in a sense an ascetic. He denies and he controls himself; and it is this reserve of energy, this fanaticism held in leash, that makes Kemal so formidable. He is like an engine with steam at high pressure. Talking to him you would at once understand why the Turk is called the gentleman of the Near East, or as a correspondent in the Balkan wars once put it, as "the only Christian among them."

Kemal expresses what appear to be opinions of the utmost moderation. He would have us believe that he is not concerned with the Pan-Islamic movement, however interested the Pan-Islamic movement may be in him and that his aims are limited to Turkey. Nor is he extravagant in the definition he gives of what he means by Turkey. He disclaims troubling himself with the socalled Pan-Turanish cause, which would stretch the Turkish Empire, east and west, hundreds of miles. Kemal apparently accepts the facts that Syria and Palestine, that Mesopotamia and Arabia, that Greece and Bulgaria and Serbia have been alienated forever from the Ottoman Empire and that, with regard to these territories, it is Kismet.

But all the more insistent is Kemal's claim that in what remains of the empire the Turk shall rule. As each province was lopped off there was a migration of Turks into the provinces that were left. For the true Turk is not a merchant, not a worker, not a producer; he is a ruler, a soldier, an aristocrat. Unless he rules, he cannot live. And when he ceased to rule he emigrates. It is for the last stronghold of the Turk that Kemal claims he is fighting. While the Turk is a majority, there, it is argued, he should govern, whatever happens to the minorities. It is in practice self-determination, pressed to the point of denying the essential rights, even of life, to those who differ from the ruling class, whether in religion or race.

Much that Kemal says sounds liberal. In the little hill town of Angora they have a Parliament, a National Assembly, as democratic in form as any one could desire. There is no Senate to check the popular decision. The Sultan at Constantinople is treated with scant respect. In a sense there is no Cabinet. The Assembly appoints certain men to do certain things, and it is to the Assembly that they are responsible. Kemal is, in name, merely the President of the Assembly. But, in fact, the Government has rapidly become autocratic. On Kemal there has been conferred, for a limited but constantly extended period, a dictatorship which is now absolute. When he drove back the Greeks from the Sakaria River, the Assembly created him Field Marshal and hailed him as "The Glorious." Under the stress of war, fanaticism thus forced the leadership into his supreme hands.

The fact is that the rise of Kemal is by no means so surprising as at first it appeared. On more than one occasion Turkish history records a similar phenomenon. The power of Islam is the sway of the sword, and whoever holds the sword must always threaten the influence and even the life of the reigning Sultan. It was thus that the Turks themselves, a thousand years ago, absorbed the powers of the Caliph, or successor to Mohammed, at Bagdad. They played exactly the game that Kemal is playing today. Similarly, Mehemet Ali, who a century ago founded the throne of Egypt, was simply an Albanian soldier who proved too strong for the Sultan. He overran Palestine, Syria and Asia Minor and would have seized Constantinople itself if Russia had not intervened, just as Britain is intervening today. Fifty years ago, Arabi Pasha, also in Egypt, led a national movement which, under a Parliamentary form, rapidly assumed a military aspect, challenged the reigning Khedive, developed anti-European tendencies and was the cause of the British occupation in Egypt. And, finally, we have the case of Enver Pasha, who led the Young Turk movement against the late Sultan, Abdul Hamid, and, in 1907, deposed him. In all these cases an able Turk has established himself in authority, partly as a protest against the misgovernment of the sovereign, partly as a champion against Western powers, and partly as the leader of a liberal impulse which, however genuine at the outset, has hitherto invariably disappointed expectations.

The Assembly at Angora has passed measures, the wording of which had been to ameliorate labor conditions and advance Moslem education. It has tried to reorganize the Christians under a Turkish Orthodox Church, independent of the Greek Patriarchate at Constantinople. But it has also repudiated the capitulations, or treaty rights of foreigners, and has quadrupled taxation. And it is with no light hand that Kemal is making war. He is now a soldier in action, and only to be regarded as a soldier, and he spares neither age nor sex. That he obtained munitions and technical aid from the French appears to be established history. Russia also assisted him. But his organisation of munitions and supply for his army is none the less a marvelous feat. For the number of Greeks opposed to him is stated to have been no fewer than 300,000.

Mustapha Kemal is just over 40 years of age. Enver was his senior by a bare year or two, and they may be regarded as contemporaries. Both men hailed from the Balkans. Both belonged to the Turkish aristocracy that in their youth held down the provinces now annexed to Greece, Bulgaria and Servia. Both spent time in Salonika, which was then Turkish and a hotbed of revolutionary propaganda. Both as officers, received an excellent training. Kemal attending the Military College at Constantinople where the influence of German instructors under experts like Marshal von der Goltz was overwhelming. Against Abdul Hamid the men worked together, but as soon as he was deposed Enver and Kemal parted company. Kemal's contention is that Enver merely wished to continue the Hamidian policy under his own name, which has proved to be a fairly shrewd estimate, and, anyway, he led the opposition. It was here that he first revealed the character of extremist. He was a man who insisted on having his own ideas accepted.

As Brigadier General he fought in the Gallipoli campaign, displaying brilliant qualities as a strategist but as the same time a disinclination to accept orders, even from so formidable an authority as General Liman von Sanders. He was therefore sent into Asia, which meant in effect exile and the loss of power, but he emerged again when, with the defeat of Turkey, the Young Turks fled and the Treaty of Sevres was to the forced upon the Sultan. In a sense, Kemal's opposition was here a little like that of de Valera in relation to Arthur Griffith and Michael Collins.

A WINTER AILMENT.

The Time When Rheumatism Returns.

This is the season when stiffness in the joints, and sharp twinges of pain in the muscles of the arms, legs or back, give warning to many people that rheumatism has not been dispelled from their system. Damp or cold days excite the old trouble and make existence miserable.

There are almost as many ways of treating rheumatism as there are doctors. Most of those treatments are directed only at the symptoms, and are reckoned good enough if they relieve the pain and stiffness for a time, but they fail to get at the cause of the trouble, and so the rheumatism returns after exposure to damp or cold.

This is because rheumatism is usually associated with the blood, and it cannot be corrected until the blood is built up and able to throw off the poisons of the disease.

The most direct treatment for rheumatism is Dr. Williams' pink pills, because they enrich the blood, making it pure and red. By this method the system is strengthened, the poisons are dispelled, and dispelled, and the patient is far less likely to suffer from further attacks.

For men and women alike, Dr. Williams' pink pills for pale people are a valuable tonic and health builder. They are sold by dealers everywhere, also one bottle for $1.50, six for $8; by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai. The price includes postage.

The Two Kemals

The Sultan's Government was ready to accept the treaty; Kemal was not, and he withdrew the National Assembly to Angora, in order to prevent ratification. That Kemal should be an irreconcilable is, after all, not to be wondered at. He is human. He has seen the entire country where he was born and bred—commonly called Macedonia—a country held by the Turks for many hundreds of years, annexed by peoples whom the Turk regards as social and spiritual inferiors. He is embittered by long experience of defeat.

What has now come to Mustapha Kemal Pasha is the testing time. He has won a big fight. In the courage that he has displayed, it is impossible not to admire him. But what has he done and what will he do with his victory It is in the misuse of power that the Turk hitherto has always failed And in Smyrna Kemal's ideals were illuminated by the wild and hardly reassuring glare of a prosperous city in flames.

When Enver rose to power, his watchwords were the same as those of Kemal, namely independence and nationalism. But what actually happened was an emphasised dependence on Germany and an absolute denial of true religious equality. Kemal also is depending on foreign assistance and is also unable to deal with the sectarian question except on Enver's sanguinary and oppressive lines. Like Enver, he is far superior in intellect to those with whom he is associated. But, also like Enver, he cannot expect to act in an enlightened fashion through instruments which are fashioned in primitive ignorance. Himself, he may be incorruptible celibate, abstemious and a model of all the virtues. But his army has always lived on plunder as the only certain pay, has always regarded women as part of the plunder, and has fought every war not as a political war but as a holy war. These swarthy soldiers from villages where they hardly know the meaning of the name Europe, and think that the Sultan rules the entire universe, are the basis of Kemal's power. While Kemal quotes the Koran with a careful reticence, they believe the Koran as the Koran was believed by Mohammed himself. To them the world consists of the faithful and the unbelievers. And for unbelievers the one and never-changing choice is Islam or the sword.

Normally, these passions in the Moslem lie dormant. Even the Kaiser could not stir up a holy war. But what Kemal has to face in Anatolia is no normal situation. His army is flushed with success. On his men, a frightful orgy of lust and blood has left for the time bring its irresistible impulses. To these men, it is little to receive Constantinople by diplomacy, under imposed conditions, with international navies and armies preserving the freedom of the Straits and in a position to interfere in the affairs of the city whenever they wish. What the Kemalities want, it is evident, is to achieve a spectacular capture of Constantinople, a manifest "comeback," a world-wide humiliation of Western ideals. Whether the French agent, Franklin Boullon, who has been hurrying to Kemal, would arrive in time to plead for moderation and if so, whether he would be able to hold the Turkish leaders pending a conference, have been questions on which might depend the peace of the world.

Did Kemal really want a peaceful settlement, assuming always that he could hold his army? That again is a question which no one can answer except Kemal himself. But an analysis of the man's character and career suggests serious reflections. On no occasion has he ever compromised. With Enver, with his military superiors and with Europe he has always maintained a stiff upper lip. Like De Valera, he is armed with and to some extent enslaved by a formula. It is the National Pact, so-called, adopted by the Assembly at Angora. To that formula, Kemal stands like a sentry at attention. According to that formula, he is to advance here and now on Constantinople and Throne. Angora expects him to do it. For, not without reason, Angora has her suspicions of a conference with Europe, whether at Venice or anywhere else. For in Kemal's character there is one further element. Not only is he persistent, but he is also ambitious. He wishes to be himself the man who does things. Power and the exercise of it have become his very life. In success he is adored and almost worshipped. And there, within a stone's throw, lies Constantinople, with a phantom Sultan trembling on a throne which is only maintained by foreign guns—that throne which is still to the Moslem the most glittering prize to be won on this planet. Kemal is human. Has he dreamed no dreams? On a question that may mean his own partial effacement, is he entirely an impartial judge? The Turk who thus rises to prominence has always hitherto overreached himself. Will Kemal be wise in time? If he refuses now to hold his hand, it must be remembered that he also rejected the drastic revision of the Treaty of Sevres, conceded to him in March of this year. And that revision embodied much of the offer made to him recently. His policy has thus been hitherto to conquer instead of discussing. And he has been able to claim that up to the fall of Smyrna this policy has succeeded.

For with that triumph Kemal ceased to be an adventurer. Even his personality was merged in his new situation. Throughout Asia he became a symbol. On him were focused hopes, schemes, politics ranging from far Japan through India, Persia, Afghanistan. Despite himself and his earlier professions, he has found that Pan-Islam hails him as the appointed Sword of the Prophet. And, behind him, there is ranged the tremendous mass formation of Russia, unrecognised by the Governments of the world, but none the less demanding a voice in Constantinople. Mustapha Kemal would be more than human or less than human if he were not stirred to the depths of his being by such a variety of world-wide considerations. And there is no evidence that, among his associates any voice has been raised against the plan of pushing his campaign to its utmost culmination.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies.

Infantry mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind, keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Hankow's Growth In 60 Years Tremendous

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Nov. 4.—When Sir Francis Aglen, Inspector-General of the Chinese Maritime Customs, laid the foundation Stone of the new building of the Hankow Customs today, it was cited as a happy incident that exactly 60 years ago today the Hankow Maritime Custom House was opened by the Customs Administration. Present at the ceremony were Tuchun Hsiao Yao-nan, Admiral Phelps of the American Navy, Lady Aglen, the Consular Body of Hankow, presidents and representatives of the various Chambers of Commerce and the Committee of Foreign Chambers of Commerce.

Outlining the development of trade in Hankow, Mr. F. W. Maze, Commissioner of Customs of Hankow, remarked that during the past 60 years since the establishment of the Customs in Hankow, the value of the annual trade of the port had risen from Hk. Tls 15,000,000 to over Hk. Tls. 200,000,000, while shipping enterprises showed equal expansion.

In the early days the port was served by few steamers, whereas now there are 58 steamers engaged regularly in the Hankow trade and some 300 steam launches on the river for local traffic. Many large ocean steamers visited Hankow during the high-water season and thus provided direct communication with foreign ports.

Sir Francis Aglen, when called upon by Commissioner Maze, laid the foundation stone and recalled the development and history of the Hankow Custom House.

Mr. Chen Chieh, Superintendent of Customs and Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, speaking in Chinese called the Maritime Customs in China connecting link between foreigners and Chinese who are thus united and brought into closer contact with the result that misunderstandings are removed and friendly relations developed.

The architects of the new building are Messrs. Stewardson and Spence and Bryan Wetson of Shanghai and Hankow, while the Clerk-of-the-Works is Mr. A. S. Mill, Whay Ching-kee being the general contractor.

U. S. WOMEN'S PARTY

(China Press Service)

Washington, Nov. 7.—The National Woman's party announced that a convention would be held at Seneca Falls, N. Y., next July to consider questions which are regarded as essential to woman.

Court Frees Unkissed Bride

Mrs. Lyle Butterworth, nee.

NELLIE Inns became Mrs. Lyle Butterworth last New Year's Eve in Chicago, when Butterworth pointed a pistol at her and drove her to the home of a minister, who performed the ceremony. She insisted on going home after the wedding, telling her husband she would join him the next day. She did not do so, but instead sued for a divorce, which has just been granted her.

Prices To Drop, But Not For Ten Years

(China Press Service)

Boston, Nov. 7.—The Harvard committee on economic research expects a drop in prices to pre-war levels during the next ten years, Prof. Charles J. Bullock, chairman, declared in a speech before the Harvard Club.

SUFFRAGE DEBATE

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 7.—The debate on Women's suffrage began today in the Senate. The Journal des Debats emphasises that the opponents and partisans of the measure differ only on matters of principle such as the rights of war widows.

Prince's Photos To Aid Soldier Blind

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 7.—A book of photographs and paintings by Mr. Donald Maxwell with a narrative by Sir Percival Phillips illustrating the Prince of Wales's journey to India and the Far East has been issued by Messrs. Hodder and Stoughton for the benefit of St. Dunstan's Hostel for Blinded Soldiers and Sailors.

Assassins Attempt Life Of Governor

(China Press Correspondence)

Changsha, Hunan, Nov. 4.—An attempt on the life of Governor Chao Heng-ti was made last Saturday evening when the latter was leaving the missionary compound after attending a lecture given by Prof. C. H. Robertson of the Shanghai Y. M. C. A. A great crowd collected around the compound gates to watch the Governor leave and a bomb was thrown over the heads of the crowd landing almost directly under the Governor's sedan chair.

The bomb exploded killing the leading coolie and wounding several bystanders including two soldiers. The Governor escaped with a few light scratches. The would be assassin has not yet been caught although an extensive search has been carried on.

The attack on Gov. Chao came as a complete surprise since his appointment under the Provincial Constitution was believed to have settled the political turmoil.

PONZI ON TRIAL

(China Press Service)

Boston, Oct. 23.—Charles Ponzi went to trial today on charges of laceny and conspiracy as a result of his scheme which promised 50 percent return to investors in forty-five days through trading in international postal reply coupons.

Ponzi is serving a federal sentence already but United States supreme court ruled that he could be tired on state indictments. His operations reached into the millions of dollars.

Britain Surprised Over Big Outlay For Envoy's Home

London, Oct. 13.—The mystery of the expenditure of £135,000 on a residence for the British High Commissioner at Baghdad, who is Sir Percy Cox, has not yet been cleared up. In "The Third Report from the Select Committee on Public Accounts" it is stated:

Our attention has been called to large expenditure from Army funds in connection with the purchase and adaptation of a residence for the High Commissioner at Baghdad. Until the work was far advanced neither the War Office nor, indeed, any Home Department was aware of this project, which has involved an expenditure of £135,000. We understand that it has been agreed between the Colonial Office and the War Office that the expenditure is not a proper charge to Army funds; but we have not yet learned how it is proposed to provide for it. We must express our surprise that a work of this magnitude should have been undertaken without, apparently, any reference to the Home Government.

Considering the state of this country's finances, of the possibility of our leaving Mesopotamia altogether, and the cheapness of labor in the East and of local building material, the public also are "expressing surprise" and wanting to know more.

Famine Relievers Ask Chekiang Aid

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 5.—The China International Famine Relief Commission has received reports from the Chinese Famine Relief Committee, Shanghai, and many other organisations to the effect that typhoons and floods during the past Summer have created famine among the people of Chekiang. The appeals in question point to the necessity to raise funds adequate for the relief work essential in the coming Winter.

The Executive Committee of the International Commission has resolved to appoint a committee to organise a campaign on behalf of Chekiang in response to those urgent appeals. The committee has also decided upon an outline of a preliminary program for a drive to be initiated shortly.

Tobacco Strike At Hankow Ends

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Nov. 5.—The strike in the British Cigarette Company has ended through a compromise which was agreed upon by Mr. J. Gilliam, Manager of the company, and two representatives of the workers, the chairman of the Provincial Labor Unions Association acting as witness.

According to the terms of the compromise, the Cigarette management stated that the new method of manufacturing cigarettes which was introduced a few months ago should be adopted in the factory, but agreed to increase the pay of workers on the condition that if after a month's trial the workers score any decrease in pay the management will make a proportionate increase so as to bring up their wages to what they were under the old system.

Peking Notes

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Nov. 5.—The Honan gentry of Peking, including some Members of Parliament, held a meeting at the Honan Guild yesterday after they had failed to gain a hearing at the Cabinet. It was resolved to make a demonstration at the Cabinet office early this week.
